

For immediate release:

Colorado Springs, CO, October 9, 2006 – RIDE Motorsports announces its formation and intention to compete in the 2007 Xtreme Rock Racing series.

RIDE Motorsports, made up of co-drivers Brooke Bosworth and Lydia Guaraldo, will be competing in the 2007 XRRR West Series. Brooke previously competed in the 2005 SXOR Rock Racing Series and appeared in Crawl Magazine's first issue (November/December 2005). Lydia Guaraldo has driven in rock crawling exhibitions including the 2006 Cars at Carlisle All Truck Nationals. Brooke and Lydia appeared together in the Crawl Magazine feature on Militia Motor Sports (July/August 2006).

The formation of RIDE Motorsports brings forward a team that crosses boundaries, shows youth and sex appeal, while still able to compete at the highest level. "I'm so excited for the 2007 season" Brooke Bosworth stated "We will have a lot fun." Lydia Guaraldo noted, "The key is having fun and being competitive." RIDE Motorsports's 2007 competition buggy is being built by Duel Motor Sports out of Kansas City, KS. Duel Motor Sports brings to the table forward thinking and aggressive designs which mate well with the personality of RIDE Motorsports.

RIDE Motorsports team members will be on hand to take in the final two XRRR events of 2006: The XRRR Finals October 14th in Colorado Springs, CO and the inaugural XRRR East race October 21st at Paragon in Hazelton, PA. RIDE Motorsports team members will also be attending the SEMA Show in Las Vegas, and RIDE Motorsports is making preparation to debut the 2007 competition buggy at Off Road Impact, January 17-19, in Las Vegas.

For more information, contact RIDE@RIDE-Motorsports.com